Dear Sir or Madam:

We cannot allow Post Master General Louis DeJoy to continue to destroy the USPS.

His actions thus far have resulted in terrible delays in obtaining our medications—a six week delivery time in one instance. We sent the label showing the shipping date and wrote in the date we received and sent it to our Senator. Since that time, we only have Republican Senators and Representative who will do nothing so we are appealing to the Commission to stop the changes General DeJoy is proposing.

DeJoy has already destroyed millions of dollars of sorting machinery and we are sure you have seen the awful pictures of mail piled up in post offices on the news reports.

Closing post offices, especially in rural areas will decrease customer service including mail delivery and create hardships for low income citizens who lack transportation. Turning package delivery over to private firms (what do you want to bet they are owned or heavily invested in by his friends) is not acceptable. Sending mail by truck instead of plane is going back to the 1970s when it took nine days for a critical certified letter to go from Birmingham to California.

Please help every American who depends on the post office—which is everyone.
